

ENDURING ON LLC

Mission Statement

At Enduring On, we believe that construction isn't just about what gets built, it's about how it's built, who's involved, and the way people feel throughout the process. The conversations, the coordination, the care behind the scenes and all of it matters just as much as the result.

That commitment is rooted in our faith. Romans 8:28 says, "And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to His purpose." That verse has carried me through job changes, health challenges, and moments of uncertainty, and it continues to shape how we show up in this work. Every project is an opportunity to build more than walls, it is a chance to build trust, create stability, and reflect something bigger than us. It's a chance to allow an outlet for all our dreams and desires to come to life and unite us.

With a world full of disunity, we look to bring people together, align goals and bring an atmosphere where everyone is motivated to be together. The most important thing is that we rely deeply on our faith to move forward, and our work is performed knowing that we are honoring our Lord, Jesus Christ.

*And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance;
for you serve the Lord Christ.*

COLOSSIANS 3:23-24

At the end of the day, we are not just here to complete a job, we are here to leave an impact. Whether that means delivering quality work, offering honest advice, or simply showing up when it matters most, we aim to be a company people can count on. But we also aim to be a company that gives back to the community surrounding it, to not just succeed personally, but that success may be given to others.

Because at the end of the day to us, Enduring On means more than keeping things moving, it means building in a way that lasts, serves, and honors the purpose behind it all.

Warmly,

Samuel Fakeh
